Let's face it, how good does that feel to have some nice virtuous champagne from time to time? says Zaha. 'It's a wonderful luxury that we all enjoy. One of the things I resent when we were building our facilities is that one of the architects asked somebody, 'How do people with mental illness like?' And the answer is, 'The same things you like – that's why you talking about. These are human beings who deserve comforts and luxuries as you do.'
Then he's functioning on a level where they're not, so we've got to find ways to make life better for them.'
